President's Report to Colleagues

Dear Colleagues,

Last year was a tough year, I like to say. As things looked to be going back to normal in January, the world tumbled even stronger. War, inflation, and the first signs of recession are just three topics we experienced in the markets and our daily lives.

As life is full of insecurity, so are the markets. Will the markets return into the bull mode or will we see not only a correction but a trend reversal? We cannot say for sure and therefore we need to rely on the art of technical analysis to find areas where we can give recommendations and make decisions. As we all know, we cannot foresee the future, but we can foresee human behavior — and that is what charts are about.

Speaking of humans, it was great to be back at IFTA's first in-person conference in Melbourne after the pandemic. It was great to meet and greet, to discuss, and to learn. It was great to get back together, to chat, and to laugh — and also to share a drink or two. Building and strengthening a network with other professionals all over the world — that was the intention from the very beginning of the IFTA conferences and I will underline this: We will continue!

Yes, there will still be a demand for virtual conferences in the future and we will cover this as well. But will they ever replace in-person conferences? Of course, not! The 2023 IFTA conference will be held in Jakarta, Indonesia October 5-7. More details will be announced in the next issue. To meet, discuss and network — like it always has been and always will be.

Last, I wish all of you a great start to the new year!

Wieland Arlt
IFTA President

AFATE (France)

AFATE celebrated its 30th birthday this past 13th of December! AFATE was created in 1990, but for the past two years it has been difficult to organise something special because of the pandemic. The debate at their celebration was "Are we at the end of the bear market of stocks?"

Most of the top French analysts were there including several former presidents of AFATE: Claude Estier and Thierry Bechu (two creators of AFATE), Julien Nebenzahl, Jean-Charles Gand, Robert Haddad, Claude Mattern, and Laurent Albie.

Nearly 160 people attended the event, including top professionals of financial markets: bankers, brokers, technical analysts, advisers, teachers, economists, journalists and more.

ESTA (Egypt)

The Egyptian Stock Exchange EGX Honors 31 Graduates of the Egyptian Society of Technical Analysts (ESTA) for completing their CETA Diploma.

Mr. Rami El-Dokany, chairman of the Egyptian Exchange (EGX), met with the Board of Directors and members of ESTA at the EGX headquarters and began his speech by welcoming the members of the association, pointing out that the Egyptian Stock Exchange is their second home. He added that he has always been interested in studying technical analysis despite his studies in fundamental and economic analysis. He stressed the important role played by technical analysts in the Egyptian capital market. He pointed out that it is not the first cooperation with the Association, as he had cooperated with the Association in many training courses during his tenure as Secretary General of the Arab Capital Markets Federation. The Chairman of the EGX was interested in hearing the opinions and suggestions of the graduates regarding the capital market and was also interested in knowing the details of the academic program in the association.

Mr. Mohamed Younis, president of the Association, also delivered a speech in which he expressed his great happiness for Mr. Rami El-Dokkani's assumption of the presidency of the Egyptian Exchange and thanked him for his interest in honoring the graduates of the Association, which indicates the extent of his appreciation for the Association and the science of technical analysis in financial markets. The president of the Association explained that the CETA diploma consists of three levels that last for three years, after which graduates are entitled to two certificates, the CETA diploma certificate and the equivalent international certificate CFTe. At the end of the ceremony, the chairman of the EGX handed over the certificates to the graduates, wishing them continued success.

Don't Get Caught Inside When You Can Be Hanging Five

OK, so truth be told, we had a fairly heated discussion at Elliott Wave International over the direction of this ad. Do we go straight serious, like just about every other ad? Or do we show our playful side, in the hope that you won't just skip past it like all those other ads?

Because on the one hand, the Certified Elliott Wave Analyst (CEWA) designation is dead serious. The CEWA program is the standard for Elliott wave analysts. But at the same time, the Wave Principle is gnarly, dude – why surf the chop with the kooks when you could be rippin' the best waves with the locals.

And so, in an exclusive arrangement with our buds at IFTA, EWI now offers the Certified Elliott Wave Analyst (CEWA) designation for the coolest dudes: Elliott wave pros, analysts and traders.

Your CEWA designation lets everyone know that you're a legend in the practical application of the Elliott Wave Principle, one of the most recognized forms of technical analysis. With CEWA you can finally paddle out away from the crowds and find some open water where you can shoot the curl.

Show your CEWA designation to potential employers and prospective clients, so they know YOU know where the bombs -- and the grey fins -- lurk.

Get Started. Visit www.elliottwave.com/wave/GetCertified

"Is it just me, or has Wilson gained some confidence since he became a CEWA?"
